

Malawi

Malawi is a small, long and narrow landlocked country in central Southern Africa dominated by Lake Malawi. Malawi is known as the warm heart of Africa and offers a true African safari experience.

Towering mountains, lush, fertile valley floors and enormous crystal-clear lakes are hallmarks of much of the Rift Valley – and Malawi displays them all.

For those keen on experiencing African culture in all its complexity and beauty, Malawi is possibly the best African country for this as distances are short and the people warm and friendly.

The scenery you will experience on a Malawi Safari holiday is diverse and the habitats are varied. Each of the many habitats is protected within Malawi's national parks and game reserves – from elephants to orchids.

For a really top class African holiday experience why not combine Malawi and its Rift Valley lake with nearby South Luangwa National Park in Zambia, which is unquestionably one of Africa's finest game parks.
